

Sexuality Survey

Don't you hate those supposedly reasonable questions that anti-gay people feel it's their right not only to ask but also to expect an answer to?

Here are some questions to ask in return.

1. What do you think caused your heterosexuality?
2. When did you become straight?
3. Could it be that your heterosexuality is just a phase?
4. To whom have you disclosed your heterosexuality?
5. If you've never slept with someone of your gender, how do you know you wouldn't prefer it?
6. Is it possible you just haven't met the right same-gender partner yet?
7. Why do you flaunt your lifestyle with wedding rings, photos at work, and descriptions of your heterosexual exploits?
8. Your heterosexuality doesn't offend me as long as you don't try to come on to me, but why do so many heterosexuals try to seduce others to their orientation?
9. Considering the battering, abuse, and divorce rate associated with heterosexual coupling, why would you want to enter into that kind of relationship?
10. Why do heterosexuals place so much emphasis on sex?
